The Doctoral Research Project (DRP) is the capstone project for the Doctor of Strategic Leadership (DSL) program. As a capstone project, it is intended for educational purposes to allow the doctoral candidate to demonstrate the ability to conduct and present meaningful doctoral-level research. The DRP is limited to a Single Case Study design focusing on a leadership problem found in the literature within a single organization. The DRP is not intended for publication, and the results are not intended to be relatable or generalizable to a larger population. Because of these limitations, the DRP is not considered to be research and is excluded from the review and approval of the Liberty University Institutional Review Board (IRB) under 45 CFR 46.102(l).
